

The American Southwest Theatre Company & NMSU Department of Theatre Arts present
2024-2025 SEASON
Auditions for the fall shows, Saturday, August 24th

Show 1: Dracula: A Comedy of Terrors, directed by Nichole Hamilton

Preview on September 26 shows 9/27 & 28 and 10/4-6.

DRACULA: A Comedy of Terrors is a laugh-out-loud, 90-minute, gender-bending, quick-changing Off-Broadway play about Bram Stoker's legendary vampire.

Show 2: Mother Courage, directed by Larissa Lury

Preview November 7, shows 11/8 & 9 and 11/15-17

Mother Courage and Her Children (1939) is the antiwar musical stage-play written by exiled German dramatist Bertolt Brecht. Set in seventeenth-century Europe, the play follows Mother Courage, a woman who operates a rolling canteen business during the Thirty Years War.

Auditions for Spring Shows: Saturday, December 2nd

Show 3: To Be Announced: A contemporary play, directed by senior student Eva Cullen

Preview on February 20th, shows 2/21 & 22, and 2/28-3/2

Show 4: Musical: The Prom, directed by Wil Kilroy

Preview on April 10, shows 4/11 & 12 and 4/25-27

Four eccentric Broadway stars join forces with a courageous girl who wants to bring her girlfriend to prom, but is thwarted by the PTA. In the end acceptance and love overcome the challenge. Winner of the Drama Desk Award for Best Musical.
